About Our Presenter:

"Val Mayo's presentation will introduce you to the wonderful world of bees. The talk will go over all aspects of beekeeping as well as amazing facts about bees that are just being discovered. Participants will have the opportunity to see and touch the tools of the trade and have all their questions answered.

Val is a second generation beekeeper. Her grandfather was a beekeeper in Lesotho, South Africa and inspired her interest in bees. She is also Vice President of the Boston Area Beekeepers Association. Aside from beekeeping her passion is animal and environmental welfare and advocacy. "
